

YECP

Young engineers changemakers programme

The Water Technologies Demonstration Programme's (WADER) Young Engineers "Changemakers" Programme (YECP) aims to provide opportunities for young South African engineers to partake in testing potential innovative water and sanitation solutions in real world sites and gain the necessary skills required to drive municipalities of the future which are sustainable, liveable and builds socio-technical infrastructure and services.

science & technology

Department:
Science and Technology
REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

WATER
RESEARCH COMMISSION

wader
WATER TECHNOLOGIES
DEMONSTRATION PROGRAMME

OUTCOME

Engineers trained to be “champions” in innovative solutions for the South African water sector.

CANDIDATES

South African citizens or permanent residents aged between 20 and 35 years in possession of a four-year engineering qualification from either a university of technology or an academic university and at least two years’ experience of working in a municipality.

PROGRAMME PROCESS

- Call and Selection of candidates
- Engineers Boot Camp
- International Masterclass
- International Exchange
- International and local site visits
- Review and feedback

Contact WADER Manager:

Dr Manjusha Sunil | Email: manjushas@wrc.org.za | Tel: +27 12 761 9310